

Reporting Timelines for Spring 2023 State of Texas Assessments of Academic Readiness (STAAR®)

The State of Texas Assessments of Academic Readiness (STAAR®) redesign will be fully implemented in spring 2023 for all grades/subjects and courses. Since new question types have been added to STAAR assessments and the test blueprints have been updated, the Texas Education Agency (TEA) wants to ensure that the performance standards continue to accurately reflect what students know and can do through a standard-setting process. Educators from across the state will convene in the spring and summer to provide their expert opinions and verify that the cut points and related scale scores are appropriate for the redesigned STAAR assessments. Given this extra activity, the reporting process will be a bit longer this summer.

To support accelerated instruction and graduation decision-making before performance levels are available (05/31/23 for STAAR EOC assessments and 08/11/23 for STAAR grades 3–8 assessments), supporting guidance will indicate whether the total raw score earned is likely passing, likely not passing, or in the zone of uncertainty for each test. (Passing = Approaches or higher.)

In addition, images of student responses for each item on the test and how many points the student received will be available in Centralized Reporting System (CRS) <https://www.texasassessment.gov/families.html> to assist in planning accelerated instruction activities. Until the standard-setting process and all quality control processes are completed, performance levels cannot be finalized. Once preliminary or final results with performance levels are available, use of this guidance will no longer be needed, and school systems should use the performance level information to inform decision-making for each student.

Your child's home campus received student Raw Scores and Preliminary Determinations ("Most Likely Did Not Pass", "Zone of Uncertainty", or "Most Likely Passed"). Parents, please access the link below for further information relative to Reporting Timelines for Spring 2023 STAAR.
